From ACEs to Assets:
THE IMPACT OF STRESS ON EDUCATION
AND THE POWER OF RESILIENCE

2 PART VIRTUAL SEMINAR SERIES!

Part I: Tuesday, November 3rd 9am - 10am
Part I will establish common understanding of the interrelation of stress and learning. Participants will explore ways in which stress, adversity, and trauma impact brains, bodies, and behaviors; improving the ability to recognize signs of difficulty.

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER FOR PART I

Part II: Thursday, November 12th 9am - 10am
Part II will introduce meaningful avenues to respond to stress, adversity, and trauma within a Multi-tiered System of Support. A practice approach to resilience development will be presented including strategies to improve individual and systemic practice change. Emphasis will be placed on direct actions that caring adults may take to minimize risk and promote positive outcomes for all students.

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER FOR PART II

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?
ANY ADULT WHO CARES FOR A CHILD(REN).
THIS TRAINING IS FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC!

About the Trainer: Amy Scheel-Jones, MS Ed.
In her work as a School Counselor, Amy spent 10 years developing expertise in practical approaches to prevention, resiliency and fostering well-being. The core of her work includes sustainable system transformation grounded in trauma-responsive principles, positive youth development, and resilience enhancement. Her areas of focus include training and consultation on the impact of childhood adversities (ACEs), trauma-responsive practices, resilience development, behavioral health system transformation, suicide, strategic planning for crisis response, and change management for school-based initiatives.

QUESTIONS?
Brigette Conklin at bconklin@stlawco.org or 315-229-3404